2006 Zinfandel, Lodi "OLD VINE" (retro label)

About the Appellation

Lodi has been a wine grape growing area as long as the Santa Cruz Mountains. While the two areas produce wine grapes; today they are directed toward two different styles of wine. So, it is very exciting to have found a Zinfandel vineyard, planted in 1909, producing top quality wine.

Rauser and Schmierer Vineyards sit side by side on the banks of the Mokelumne River. Knarled and still head pruned, the vines at each of these vineyards look as though they've been through 100 harvests.

Winemaker's Notes

As part of our 75th Anniversary the 2006 Zinfandel is fitted with a 1950's vintage BARGETTO label. Labeled as Old Vine, the fruit for this wine was sourced from vines that were planted in the early and mid 1900's.

This wine has a rich berry fruit nose with a delicate presence of oak, followed by mouth filling flavors of briary berry jam, black pepper spice, and leather. This is a well balanced wine with soft tannins to give structure and finish.
