2007 Gewurztraminer, Monterey County

The Appellation

Located in the northern Central Coast region of California and bordering the Pacific Ocean, Monterey County has proven to be a superb growing region. Well-drained soils along the river basins, consisting of gravel and loam, coupled with a cool micro-climate (Region I) continue to yield grapes with high acid and intense flavors. Even though soils in the valleys have low water retention capacity, the region's cool climate enables growers to apply only moderate amounts of water for irrigation and still maintain healthy vines.

Winemaker's Notes

Like a tropical wind carrying the aromas of sun kissed fruits and flowers, this off-dry style Gewurztraminer carries the intense aromatics of honeysuckle, orange blossoms, and ripe guavas followed by a touch of glazed angel food cake. The effervescent palate brings forth a very rounded mouth-feel, with mild expressions of star fruit and minerals.

I highly recommend this food friendly wine to be served slightly chilled, and paired with a wide variety of dishes ranging from mild blue cheeses to flakey white fish to spicy curries. Please enjoy!
