2006 Gewurztraminer, Monterey County

The Appellation

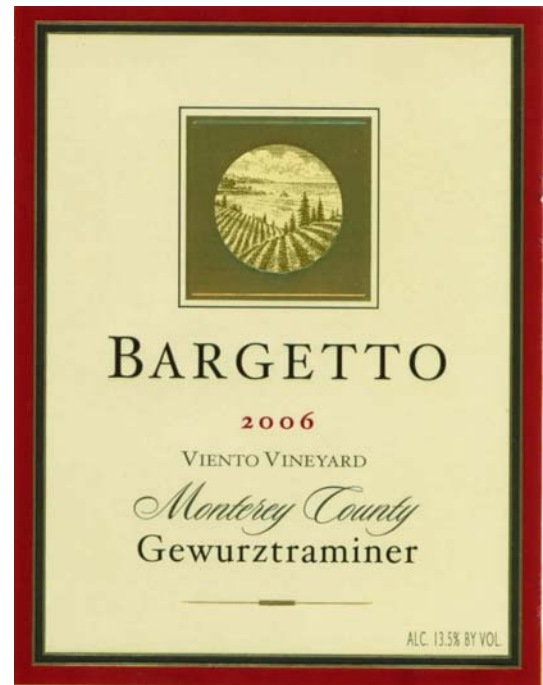

Located in the northern Central Coast region of California and bordering the Pacific Ocean, Monterey County has proven to be a superb growing region. Well-drained soils along the river basins, consisting of gravel and loam, coupled with a cool micro-climate (Region I) continue to yield grapes with high acid and intense flavors. Even though soils in the valleys have low water retention capacity, the region's cool climate enables growers to apply only moderate amounts of water for irrigation and still maintain healthy vines.

Winemaker's Notes

A perennial favorite, this year we are formally recognizing the vineyard that has been bearing the wonderful honeysuckle, rose petal, and Buddha's hand scented fruit, Viento Vineyard of Monterey.

The wine is once again as much a pleasure to drink as it was to make, with its lingering orange blossom and lychee palette and a hint of minerality. Fragrant and balanced, please enjoy this off-dry Gewurztraminer with a broad range of foods and complex meals, from butternut squash with roasted chestnuts to grilled panko-crusted ono, or even Hawaiian barbecue.
